

The Journey to our final Piece

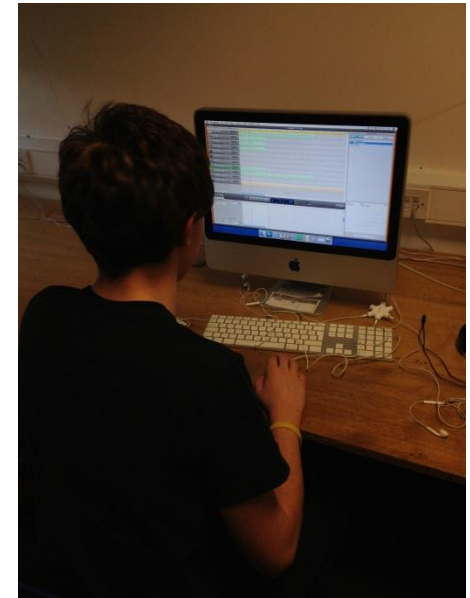

By Mark Harris

The preliminary task

- To start of with we had to create a preliminary task piece where we had to use the 180 degree rule, match on action and over the shoulder shots of a conversation.
- This was a huge success and we all understood the task and did really well doing it

Planning

- During our time we spent a lot of it planning researching and testing different software out and doing test shots to find the perfect effects to use as well as create our story bored

filming

- During our filming we went to lots of different destinations around Cambridge to film our film, however while filming we never forgot the things we were taught during the preliminary task.

Editing

- This was the final push for us getting the editing done as well as meeting all our dead lines first one was our rough cut that we had 2 lessons to do as we filmed on the last weekend we could.

The final piece

- And now we have upload the final piece onto our blog and the internet for the whole world to see and enjoy.
